Bandera, TX –

Bandera's Office Community Education will offer a general financial seminar for parents. The title of this presentation is "How Money Works." This presentation will address the three root causes of the financial problems most families face: failure to plan, uninformed, and misinformed decisions. They will also discuss the following issues: credit card traps, how life insurance policies work and paying off credit card debt. These topics once understood and applied will have an impact on a family's personal finances. The instructor for this course will be William Braescu, an independent representative of Primerica Financial Services. This free seminar will be presented on Monday, April 19 at 6 PM in Portable 1 at the Central Administration Building. A light working supper will be provided and child care will be available.
